A gentleman of St. Louis recently received a letter from Chief Justice Chase, in which he says: "I am out of all future political contests, and no one need be jealous of me hereafter."

Brigham Young's Empire shales at the advent of one David Smith, referred to in prophecy, who preaches one wife and the deposition of Brigham.

The ex-King of Spain, Don Francisco d'Assis, spends his time in Paris, in making toys for Isabella's children. He is a very skillful wood-turner.

A German lady in Chicago claims to have the largest pearl in the world. It is said to be oval, about two inches long, and so valuable that no one in the country can purchase it.

A young Jersey girl snatched an epileptic fellow off the rails just in time to prevent the coming explosion, from mauling him, and then would not tell her name.

Henri Rochefort is said to have gambled away his whole fortune. The subscription list of the Lanterne has dwindled down to about thirty thousand.

The first night after his marriage Commodore Vanderbilt gave the harbor at Syracuse for shaving him, and distributed $50 among the other servants.

Persons who marry thereby diminish their chance of being arrested for crime. A majority of six thousand men arrested for crime in New York last year were single, and the majority of single women over married was nearly as large.

The effects of a long life of attendance at church are shown in the case of an old lady in Ohio, who goes into a trance state every Sunday at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and talks in grammatical piety.

The Southern potatoes, having failed, the Western product is proffered at the rate of 250 bushels an acre. Thus, when one corner of the national household is on the eve of starvation another corner feeds it.

The Toledo Commercial mentions the sad misfortune of a boy whose pantaloons were stolen early in the morning while he was in swimming, and he had to roam behind a lumber pile all day long in consequence.

A Parisian editor pastored a prominent official with offers of newspaper assistance.
The minister refused it for some time, but finally replied: "My dear friend, you are mistaken; if goods did once save the capitol, it was not with their quills."

Boston has a well-organized system for the distribution of flowers to the sick, the idea of which was suggested by a little girl.
Inquiries are now made in that city whether some similar arrangement cannot be made to secure the distribution of fruit among the poorer classes.

There is at Sioux city a Winnelago lady named Peo-ke-na or "Smiling City," who has achieved 117 years and 55 children.
Some of the tribe claim that she is even older than the figures given, and it may be she is, as women are apt to conceal their age.

The New York World says "the peach is the rose of fruits," and adds that "a man thought the easiest way to suicide was to eat himself to death on peaches, but the more he ate the better he felt, till at the end of the basket he cried, 'Let me not leave a world that contains such a beautiful fruit.'"

A young man of limited intelligence, who was recovering from a long fit of sickness, being informed by his physician that he "might venture now upon a little animal food," exclaimed, "No you don't, doctor; I've suffered enough on your gruel and stuff, and hang me if I'll touch any of your hay and oats."

An Englishman figured in one of the recent duels near Paris. Swords were the weapons. After a few passes the Englishman was scratched very slightly on the hand, and the other wished to stop. "Not at all,"
said he, and on they went.
